

Sinclair is using its network of television stations to broadcast a smear of John Kerry in furtherance of its right wing agenda. it is high time the media conglomerates were broken up rather than proposing to allow them to acquire even more control over our news outlets.